Norris Public Power District Continues to Work on Restoring Outages in Southern and Eastern Gage County

Norris Public Power District continues to restore power associated with the winter storm that struck southeast Nebraska on Monday. As of 7:00 a.m. this morning, there were approximately 350 Norris customers without power located in rural portions of southern Gage County. Most customers located within southeastern Jefferson County were restored on Tuesday night.

Norris crews along with crews from South Central Public Power District, Southern Public Power District, Perennial Public Power District, Seward Public Power District, Custer Public Power District, Nebraska Public Power District, and Beatrice Board of Public Works will focus their efforts on southern and eastern Gage County today.

The District hopes to make a lot of progress today on restoration efforts. We truly appreciate everyone's patience in restoring power. Additional information on restoration efforts will be released as the day progresses. Customers with questions regarding when they will receive power can call into any Norris office for an update; however at this time, it is too early to know exactly when everyone will be restored.
